Together Time

Twin Towers

Using a wooden, plastic, or cardboard building block set, play a matching game with your child. (If a building set is not available, use assorted sizes of boxes and cans.) Have your child assemble some of the pieces into an arrangement. Try to duplicate what your child has built. Then, build something for your child to copy.

Nature Names

Your child can make a rustic-looking name plaque using a piece of cardboard and several small twigs. If your child knows how to print her name, have her do so in large capital letters on the cardboard. Help trace the first letter with glue. Then, break sticks as needed and place them in the glue to form a twig letter. Repeat the process for each letter. If necessary, weight the project down while it dries. Finally, attach a piece of twine to the cardboard so the name plaque can be hung on a wall or door.
